some people cant see the forest for the treesthey get so bogged down in details that they lose sight of what its all about others cant see the trees for the forestthey miss the wondrous details all around them so why not look instead at both the forest and the trees this commentary on pauls letter to the colossians guides you in doing just that even though we will be exploring ancient biblical cultures and learning plenty about the greek language no prior academic training is needed technical terms have been set aside instead with everyday language we will discover the big picture and revel in the fine details of this stunning letter amazed by how god is still speaking these same words today to contemporary personal and social challenges we will not then be tourists rapidly zipping through colossians as if on a monotonous interstate highway instead we will be hiking our way through this letter step by step phrase by phrase finding joy in gods truth and growing in our faith come and join the journey if the holy spirit is upon you you will see visions or and dream dreams whether awake or sleeping these visions dreams inspirations boldness empowerment plans purposes and pursuits come from the wisdom anointing and power of the holy spirit and the workings of god visions bring power never allow your vision or dream to die if you want it to produce the required results visions and dreams can come in form of spiritual revelations and perceptions of things by seeing and hearing into the spiritual realm by the work of the holy spirit they can also come as insights knowledge wisdom understanding ideas plans and perception which are given people by the inward inspiration of the holy spirit you have to be sure that the vision dream plan and idea that you have is not a human ambition or a satanic idea because carnal fleshly satanic and human ambitions are not divine and god given dreams visions and plans in this collection of essays tom greggs explores the nature of the church in a world of many religions greggs writings on the church and on other religions emphasize the importance of attentiveness to christ and the holy spirit and both are simultaneously generous and particularist the first part of the book addresses the church as it is brought into being by the spirit in glorifying god celebrates the sacraments respects the authority of the creeds is generously catholic and critiques its own religion the second part looks at the church in a pluralist context as it engages in inter faith dialogue expresses both particularism and universalism speaks of christ with many names and reads scripture and understands the many covenants found there greggs offers a programmatic conclusion setting an agenda for theologies of the church and of other religions and their simultaneous relationality this book asks why tax policy is both attracted to and repelled by the idea of justice accepting the invitation of economist henry simons to acknowledge that tax justice is a theological concept the work explores theological doctrines of taxation to answer the presenting question the overall message of the book is that taxation is an instrument of justice but only when taxes take into account multiple goods in society the requirements of the government the property rights of society s members and the material needs of the poor it is argued that this answer to the presenting question is a theological and ethical answer in that it derives from the insistence of christian thinkers that tax policy take into account material human need necessitas without the necessitas component of the tax balance tax systems end up honoring only one of the three components of the tax equation and cease to reflect a coherent idea of justice the book will be of interest to academics and researchers working in the areas of tax law economics theology and history
