eternal captive love's sacred reign is a soul stirring invitation to kneel at the foot of the cross and be transformed in this tender unfolding of scriptural poetry. Rev. Dr. Sheen Stillwell Elijah Weaves scripture, prayer, and deeply personal reflection into a sacred dialogue between the human heart and the divine. Each page is a tender call to surrender, inviting the reader to become a willing prisoner not of shame or suffering but of God's infinite mercy and love. With themes ranging from redemption, gratitude, and inner stillness to perseverance through trials and the radical call to love one's enemies, these reflections gently lead the reader through a spiritual ascent anchored in biblical wisdom and mystical insight. The author explores the paradox of divine captivity: that true freedom is found in surrender and real strength in dependence on Christ. Whether you are burdened by past failures, longing for deeper intimacy with God, or seeking a quiet space to pray and reflect, this book offers a sanctuary for the soul. Every poem and reflection invites you to place your heart at the foot of the cross, nailed there in hope, healed there in love, and set aflame with holy longing. Let this book be your retreat, your companion in prayer, and your mirror in grace. Let your soul be captivated and renewed by love's sacred reign.

mystical love in the German Baroque theology, poetry, and music identifies the cultural and devotional conventions underlying expressions of mystical love in poetry and music of the German Baroque. It sheds new light on the seemingly erotic overtones in settings of the Song of Songs and dialogues between Christ and the faithful soul in late 17th and early 18th century cantatas by Heinrich Schütz, Dieterich Buxtehude, and Johann Sebastian Bach. While these compositions have been interpreted solely as a secularizing tendency within devotional music of the Baroque period, Isabella van Elferen demonstrates that they need to be viewed instead as intensifications of the sacred based on a wide selection of previously unedited or translated 17th and 18th century sources. Van Elferen describes the history and development of Baroque poetic and musical love discourses from Schütz's early works through Buxtehude's cantatas and Bach's cantatas and Passions. This long and multilayered discursive history of these compositions considers the love poetry of Petrarch European reception of petrarchan imagery and traditions its effect on the madrigal in germany and the role of catholic medieval mystics in baroque lutheranism van elferen shows that bach s compositional technique based on the emotional characteristics of text and music rather than on the depiction of single words allows the musical expression of mystical love to correspond closely to contemporary literary and theological conceptions of this affect
